Reserve Your Copy of Clayton, Missouri: An Urban Story Today!

Clayton will soon celebrate its 100th anniversary as a municipality. In preparing for this milestone, we look back at our city's history and marvel. The people who pushed for incorporation back in 1913 could not have foreseen that their rural outpost of small frame buildings and plank sidewalks would later become a metropolitan hub, with stately neighborhoods and award-winning parks.

To commemorate our community's centennial, we are excited to announce the publication of Clayton, Missouri: An Urban Story by Mary Delach Leonard with Melinda Leonard, a public historian. This richly illustrated, coffee-table book tells Clayton's story from the very beginning, through newspaper reports, anecdotes, resident voices, timelines, and fun facts, plus photographs of nostalgic images of the city's past and modern community scenes.

The book is an ideal gift for families, children living out of town, and former residents, as well as new-to-town neighbors, employees and colleagues. It will be perfect for your home library and corporate lobby. We know you will enjoy knowing our community's story!

This fine publication will be available for distribution in October 2012. We hope you will take advantage of this pre-publication opportunity to reserve an autographed book today. Your copy of Clayton, Missouri: An Urban Story will be delivered to you for $35.00, including shipping. All proceeds will benefit the Clayton Century Foundation.
